TAKE OFF

Come, mighty bird of the sea,
Let me fly with you.
Wherever we want to go,
All we have to do is soar.

Our lives are our own
We decide what we do,
When the wind is with us
And when it is not.

Let me be like you
Gentle and free,
Knowing what I want
And going after it.

If you don't catch the fish first try
You dive again.
Let me be like that,
Not accept defeat

Wherever I go
Let me hold life
Gently in my hands
And treasure every moment

IL SPEAKS OUT

Don't even try to fillibuster me, Cathy Klein defiantly thinks.

"I call this meeting to order!" President Ralph Berry says, and thus the battle of rhetoric begins. Every other Thursday, the 65 members convened to realize the purpose of Student Council — to promote the general welfare of the students and school spirit, and foster better communications between students, faculty, and administration. Student Council's primary source of income is the concession stand operated during the football season. Some of the activities they carried out include: Free Form Education Day, the homecoming game, election, and parade, and other festivities. Whatever the activity, it was thoroughly discussed before it was put into action. Under the guidance of Miss Heskett, all involved not only accomplished many beneficial projects, but, also, learned a great deal about the art of rhetoric and of parliamentarian procedure.

I think I'm getting the hang of this, laughs Jane Haas.

We have the ultimate solution Bill Kuhlman deducts.

Togetherness makes Student Council a little more interesting.

HEEL TOE, HEEL TOE

The 1974-75 Findley High School Band and majorettes this season turned out many well put together performances. The majorettes put on performances in which if some people were music lovers they ask for an encore. Cindy Althaus helped add to the excitement and enjoyment as she was feature majorette. Not all people have that much coordination. It takes a lot of work and they have to put much effort into it. These guys were determined and in the summer heat when we were swimming or enjoying the sun they were sweating their hearts out to make the people happy. If some of us live close to the school we can hear the windows shake from all that vibration of them tubas, horns, etc. They may get frustrated and angry when Mr. Koncik makes them do things for the 1000 and 1 time. But they stuck with things and worked hard at making the band a good one. Oh they probably had their bad moments. A few sour notes and all but they just kept on going like there was not even a mistake made but Mr. Kondik heard them. The band marched in parades, had a peanut sale to earn money for their own personal uses, and put on performances at the football games. But as the year went on you didn't hear to much of them because right now they're in hibernation for the coming year. You never know they may turn out a better year next year.

Showing her music talent playing the flute is Deb Schultz.

"I'll pretend I didn't see that," replies the director of band Mr. Kondik.

"Put your money where your mouth is," says Kim Peters.

The Findlay High School band demonstrates which school is the best!

"Take that!", exclaims Mark Wolber.

"I've always wanted to be a ballerina", says Cindy Althaus feature majorette.

"Do you think they saw me do that?", smiles Vicki Ice.

Findlay Football has many angles to it. Beginning with PT in the hot summer and practices during the season itself. The players and coaches take a lot of pride in this sport. As the season nears the team gets their individual goals. Being first in the BC, beating Moeller, having an undefeated season, possibly getting a crack at state. Football is tuff.

HOMECOMING

Just like the olden days says Teresa Cosiano to Deb Lizotte.

The 1974 Homecoming was of formal dress this year. The crowning ceremonies took place before the game in which Lisa Smith was crowned the queen. Her court consisted of Teresa Cosiano, Patti Dysinger, Deb Lizotte, and Kari Pejovich. The other girls which were chosen but not serving on the court were Beth Hall, Vicki Ice, Claudia Mills, Sue Quelhorst, Andrea Westerhausen, and Angie Workman. Other girls being recognized were Key Club Sweetheart Tina Klein and Varsity F Football Queen Deb Taylor. Following the homecoming game in which the Trojans won to Marion Harding 28-6 was the dance on Saturday night. The theme was 'Journey Through Time', in which the servers dressed in the fifties style, The band was of two personalities. The first half of the evening they were dressed in civilized clothes, playing down to earth music. During the later part of the dance the group slicked back their hair, playing "Let's Go To The Hop." The Homecoming festivities for the 1974 school year is one of many to be remembered. May we hope to continue this in years to come.

QUEEN LISA AND COURT

I'VE GOT THE

"Ladies and Gentlemen, introducing the Findlay High School Dance and Concert Band."

"I betcha I can blow harder and louder than you can," says the horn blowers of America.

This years Dance and Concert Band at Findlay High School did a fine job in making people happy. They played at many places such as the basketball games. Yes, that was them playing when you heard the "stripper". They also played at the Dance Concert making music for those who really got into Lawrence Welk music. They played other selections for those who did not get into Lawrence Welk so well. Many of those who are in Dance and Concert Band are in orchestra or band.

Dance Band saxophone players lay it on ya.

MUSIC IN ME

Don't look now but I think someone just went through here with no clothes on.

"Ok everybody have their earplugs? Ready?"

They like to spread themselves out where ever there is to make music. No matter where they spread themselves they blend in well. Their director Mr. Kondik had a lot of influence on making it a good year.

Either they were good and had it down pat or they called home and said they'd be late for supper. It's a good thing look how they turned out. Pretty good, wouldn't you say.

Don't be shy my dear I'm only harmful on full moons!

Boy my lips feel like they're going to grow around this horn. Says one of pep band members!

This time lets get this right!

JUNIOR SENIOR CHOIR

"How long did he say we had to hold this note?" gasps the sophomore choir.

This years 1974-75 Junior Senior choir were very successful in their well put together and selections of music. As well as giving concerts they also put on a musical which was "My Fair Lady." The director Mr. Jeffries had a big job in conducting a fine group of singers. They worked at putting together popular songs from the 70's to other selections from Bach, Braham, Schuman, and others. The choir made sure they all drank their lemon juice before each concert as to make sure the frog wasn't going to ruin their night out under lights. Looks like the lemon juice worked for we had many compliments on the fine work they did. Thanks to the Juniors and Seniors who participated in this years choir. Keep up the good work your all beautiful singers.

Eat your heart out Elton John, plays Kevin Miles.

"I wish upon a Midnight Star", sings Ginny Grindell.

"Ah I wonder when Mr. Jeffries is gonna let us take part in the program", exclaims Jr. Sr. Choir.

Sophomore Choir sing their hearts out as Mr. Jeffries leads in song.

"Darn, what are the words to that song", stutters Amy Fredricks.

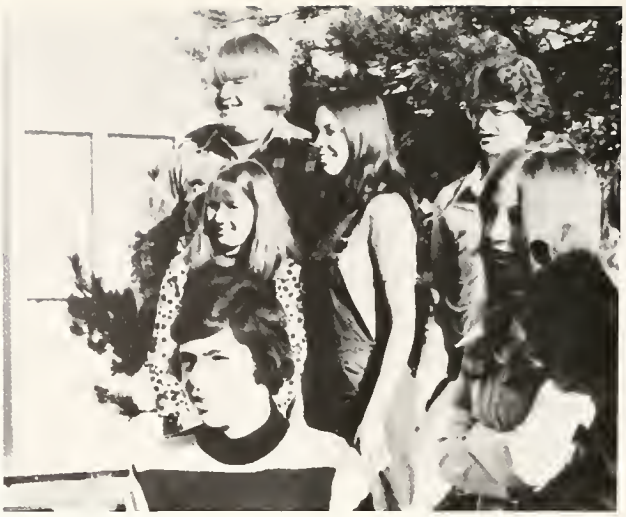
Kevin Miles, Joy Ennis, Ed Trainer, Eileen Flanagan, Tim McGinley, and Jill Ennis join in singing at the choir concert.

Jr. and Sr. choir caroliers stand at ease just before choir director Mr. Jeffries leads them in a song.

What is it, the 9 finalists for Miss America? No, It's the Chordettes.

SPEECH CLUB IS NOT DUMB

The Speech Club is neither deaf, blind, nor dumb. They take what they hear and see and transmit their feelings on certain subjects through rhetoric. There are three categories of speaking: (1)oral interpretations, (2)original interpretations, and (3)extemporaneous speeches. The Speech Club exercised their skills in many tournaments throughout Ohio, including Little Districts at BGSU where they placed seventh, and Big Districts at OU where Bill Redpath placed 34th in the state. Although this club is open to anyone interested at the High School, it is not funded by such. The club raised money this year through bake sales at plays, selling charms at the Junior Highs and the High School, and by takng pictures at the prom. Mrs. Janelle Busdecker, Speech Club advisor, stated that in order to be in Speech Club, one must be dedicated, responsible, patient, and have strong desire to speak. The season which covered mid-October to mid-March was concluded with a joint banquet with the Debate Program.



Members get entertained by a passing streaker.

The Speech Club was spending most of its times looking for a room to meet in.

Mrs. Busdecker, Theresa Roush, Bill Biehl, Linda England, Linda Ringle, Tom Williams, Bill Redpath, Carol Morman, Jenny Hopkins.

This year, the debate program worked on quality rather than quantity. With five varsity debators, eight junior varsity debators, and ten classroom noncompetitors, they had to be good. All competitors participated in the Ohio High School Speech League. After many preparatory debate rounds in tournaments around the country, the team of John Campbell and Brad Westall were able to take top honors in the state and will go on to National competition this summer. Other debators excelled in the many tournaments held throughout the year. Operating under the national topic "Resolved: That the U.S. should significantly change the method of selecting presidential and vice presidential candidates," advisor Alvin Bell asked debate students in developing the six academic skills associated with forensics. These six are reasoning, analysis, use of evidence, organization, refutation, and public speaking. When one views the great advantages of mastering these skills, one realizes that the many hours put in and out of class preparing positive and negative arguments were entirely worthwhile.

The Trojan Yearbook Flight Crew plotted its course early in the year. But before we could take off, ground training and preparation were completed. This consisted of securing advertisements to support the trip and an all-day workshop. What started as an experimental run, turned into reality, and as a result there are many things different about this yearbook. Because there were many novices on this trip we had some trouble getting off the ground. They soon learned, however, and will take the controls next year since seven of the experienced crew will have to retire. Our able co-pilot, Jeff Fay and Ross Cambell steered us enthusiastically along our course, but, whenever we ran into turbulence, assured with Mr. Snow and Mr. Hayes, advisers and Mr. Rodeheffer Yearbook Representative in the control tower. However our flight's success was due mainly to the people who have of their time, experience, Courage, and willingness to work together as a crew. Now we ask you to hop on board No matter how many times you take this trip, you'll see something different each time. We hope you enjoy your flight!

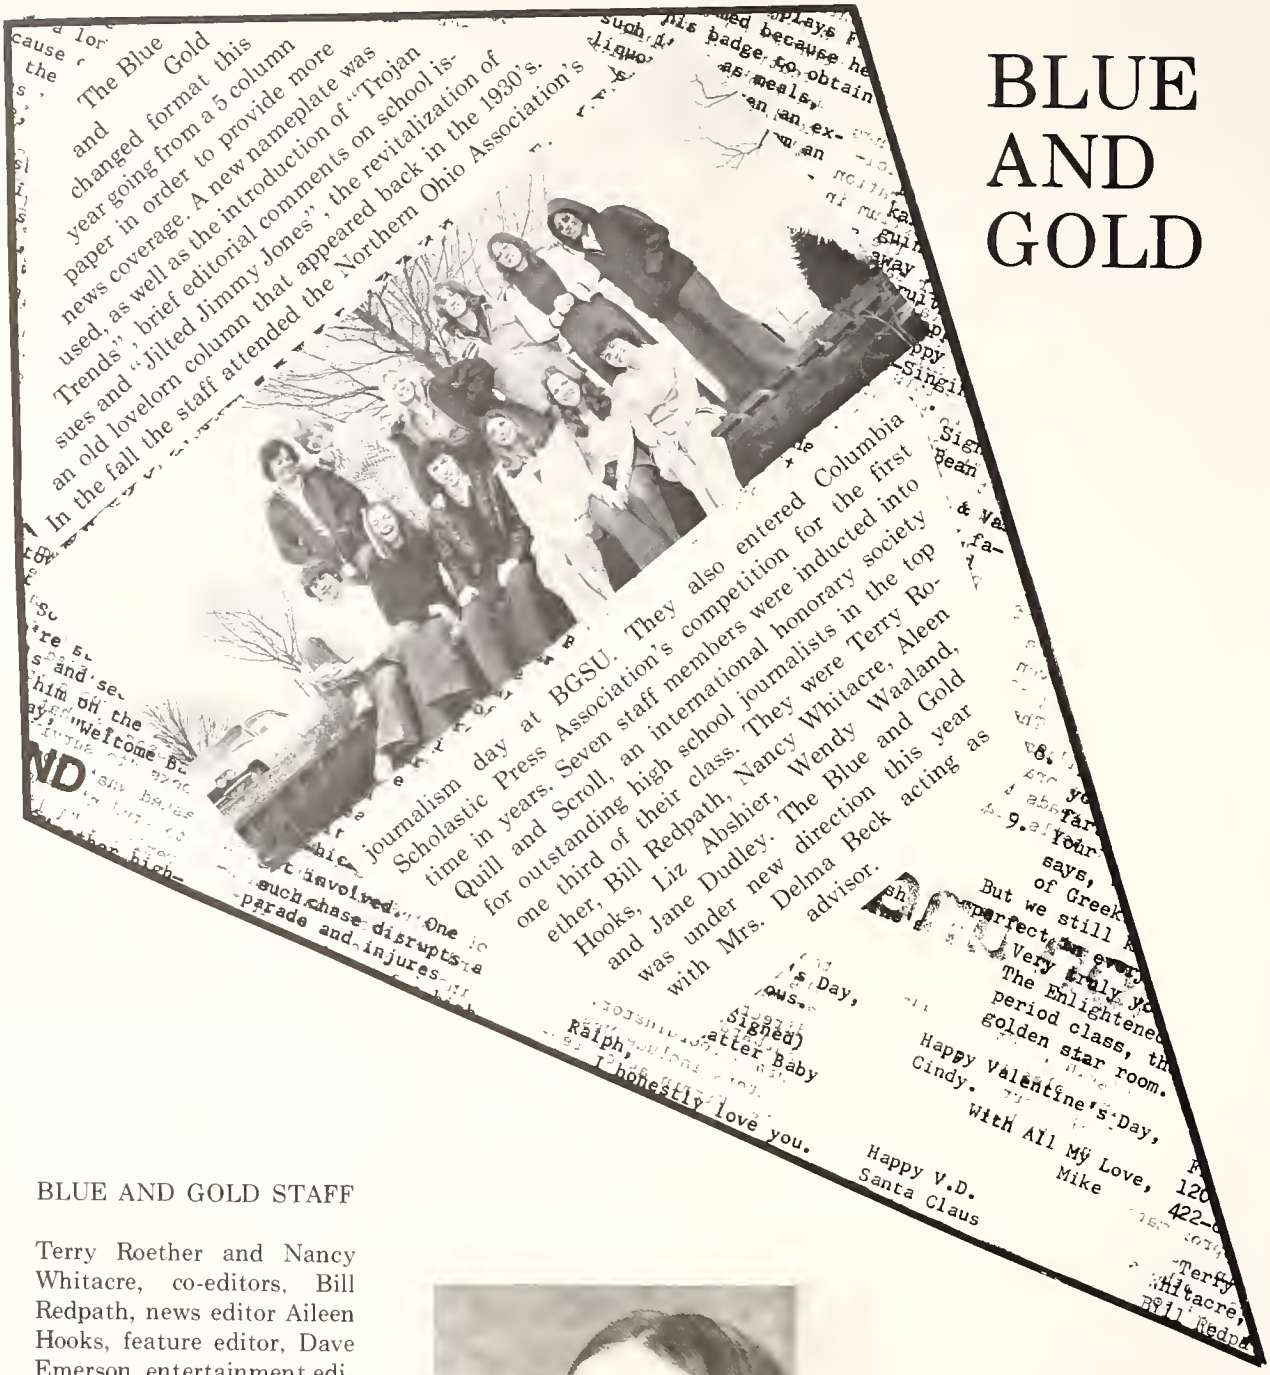
BLUE AND GOLD



The Blue and Gold changed format this year going from a 5 column paper in order to provide more news coverage. A new nameplate was used, as well as the introduction of "Trojan Trends", brief editorial comments on school issues and "Jilted Jimmy Jones", the revitalization of an old lovelorn column that appeared back in the 1930's.

In the fall the staff attended the Northern Ohio Association's journalism day at BGSU. They also entered Columbia Scholastic Press Association's competition for the first time in years. Seven staff members were inducted into Quill and Scroll, an international honorary society for outstanding high school journalists in the top one third of their class. They were Terry Roether, Bill Redpath, Nancy Whitacre, Aleen Hooks, Liz Abshier, Wendy Waaland, and Jane Dudley. The Blue and Gold was under new direction this year with Mrs. Delma Beck acting as advisor.

DECA

The Findlay Chapter of the Distributive Education Clubs of America has maintained its high standards this year. Alice Mason, an active member, was elected state Vice-President of the Northwest Region and represented the area in the National Conference in Florida. Findlay ranked in the top 20 of over 600 DECA Chapters throughout the state. DECA's I and II with advisors Mr. Taylor and Mr. Hayes respectively are supplements to the Distributive Education classes. DECA, basically, prepares students for leadership in retailing and allows for competition among other students with career goals in retailing. They developed their retailing skills by operating the FHS bookstore and Mumrigorous competition.

What do you mean I'm late for the meeting I got here as fast as I could! Complains advisor Coach Heater.

The actives for the year were a Santa Claus house during Christmas which gave the younger generation a place to go make their demands. Also another event for the children was an Easter egg hunt which turned out to be more challenging for the Varsity F member than for the children. The big event of the year seems to be the initiations which took place three times a year. This is where all the new athletes are welcomed into the club.

SPIRIT CLUB

Spirit club is to be made up of girls who number any where from 30 to 75 and manage to meet once a week with out any dominating officers. They are the ones that always seem to be around to cheer on athletes of all sports. They decorate the lockers of the young men and even sometimes decorate their homes. They acquire most of their money by selling booster buttons and having bake sales. If they ever come up short of cash they just dip into their own pockets for it.

SAE UP A TREE?

Most of us curse the school system and the methods with which we are educated. Students in Action for Education is a group genuinely interested in learning about different modes of education. Throughout the year they have planned a field trip to a Cincinnati school in order to evaluate the Arend system of scheduling. They do not simply learn of the art, however, but practice it. SAE tutors students in elementary schools as well as those here at FHS. Along with this, they have worked with members of the Blanchard Valley School. Advisors Mr. Froelick and Mrs Davidson, stress that SAE is not solely an organization for future teachers, but is open to anyone interested in education!

A.F.S.

The American Field Service has been active for a number of year at F.H.S. and means the learning of foreign cultural backgrounds. The Findlay Chapter of A.F.S. sends out and receives one exchange student each year. Rajan Chitty was one of the main attractions of A.F.S. this year. A student from Malaysia, he revealed to the club many interesting facts about his country. Supervised by advisor Jane Boehringer were an International Progressive Dinner, Ice skating and Christmas parties, dinner at The Wooden Indian, and a canoe trip. Yard and bake sales were moneymakers for the club.

ALIVE IN SEVENTY FIVE

"Hi there!" says Varsity cheerleader Diane Diaz.

"Well, win a few, lose a few," decide J.V.'s Lesa Ellis and Becky Gonso.

Is that you Kari?

Did you hear about the F.H.S. cheerleaders this year? They really made the rounds this year, starting with placing a third at the Grand Champion cheerleading clinic. They then raised enough money to go to the Nationals in Lansing Michigan. This year started a new experience for the cheerleaders. They are now allowed in Spirit Club. They also had another project to raise money for new uniforms. This year will bring back certain memories for the F.H.S. cheerleaders especially the chant MY NAME IS GERALDINE I'D LIKE TO GET TO KNOW YOU! These are some of the memories of the Varsity and Jr. Varsity 74-75 cheerleaders.

Give it all you've got Lisa!

No, girls we can't play ring around the rosy at a tournament game.

Off duty cheerleader Deb Lizotte.

Patty Wittenmyer and Amy Miller cheer the team on to a victory.

The Varsity and Junior Varsity squads combine in a spirited float for the Homecoming parade.

Varsity cheerleaders: Linda Reamsynder, Kari Pejovich, Lisa Smith, Sue Quellorst and Deb Lizotte before a basketball game.

You tell 'em Sue!

ORCHESTRA

1975

"Lean on Me", sings Jean Shepard's violin.

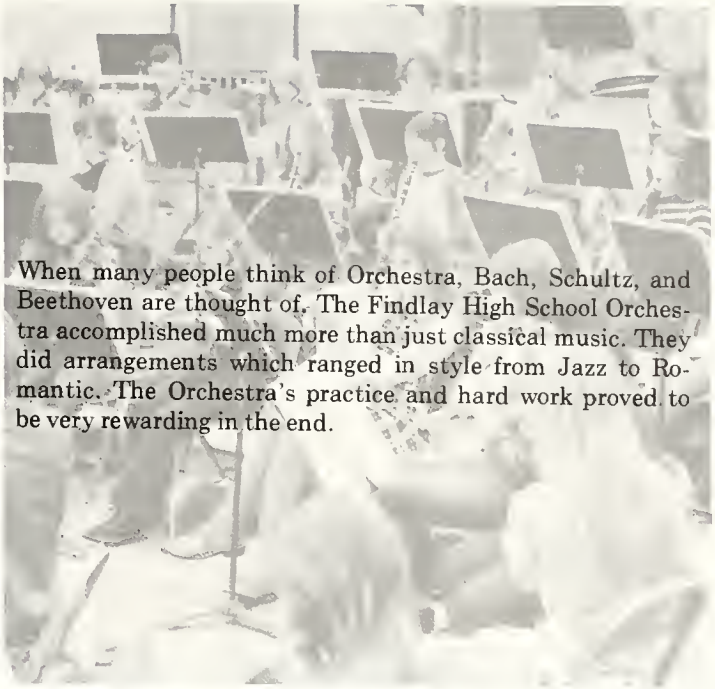
"For Sure", mimicks Chris Peeler.

No applause, just money, thinks Mr. Shell.

"Look Mom", exclaims Jim Morrison, "No Eyes".

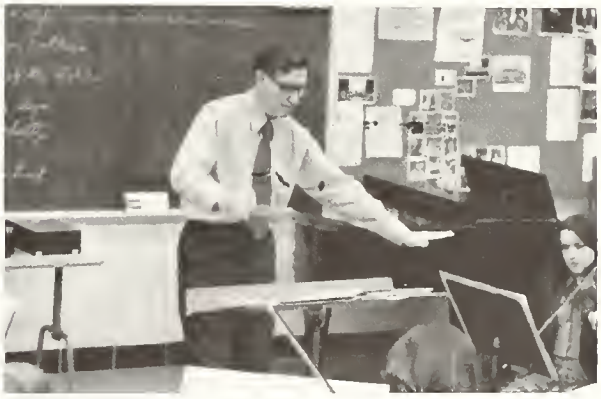
Linda Lewandoski, F.H.S. bass player, How's your Love Life!

Puzzled, Jenny Hopkins, wonders whether she sees a fly or a note.



When many people think of Orchestra, Bach, Schultz, and Beethoven are thought of. The Findlay High School Orchestra accomplished much more than just classical music. They did arrangements which ranged in style from Jazz to Romantic. The Orchestra's practice and hard work proved to be very rewarding in the end.

"We're slow but sure," replys Jay Bucky and Bruce Perry.



A one, a two, a 1,2,3,4 conducts Mr. Shell.

Seventy Six Trombones ... Dreams Joe Clark.

"Is that in C minor or D minor," questions Dale cupp?

HOUSE AT POOH CORNER

On October 26 and 27, 1974, the Findlay High School Drama Club presented "The House at Pooh Corner", a very entertaining children's play written by A.A. Milne. Mrs. Gebhardt directed the twenty cast members into producing a very humerous play. The production staff and the Carpentry class also deserve much acknowledgements and thanks for all their hard work. "The House at Pooh Corner" takes place in the forest of young Christopher Robin's imagination during Autumn. Winnie-the-Pooh and all of Christopher Robin's friends appear in this play along with the addition of Tigger. Tigger played by Chris Greeno, is the center of attention.

Many of the problems that arise in the woods are caused by Tigger not having a house to live in but wanting one very much. The animals are also confronted with the problem of Christopher Robin going away to get an education, thus leaving them all alone in the woods. For those who attended this terrific performance, we hope you enjoyed it. And for those of you who missed the performance you missed a great night of fun and enjoyment. But that's the breaks so pass it on not to miss another performance put on by the Findlay High School Drama Club.

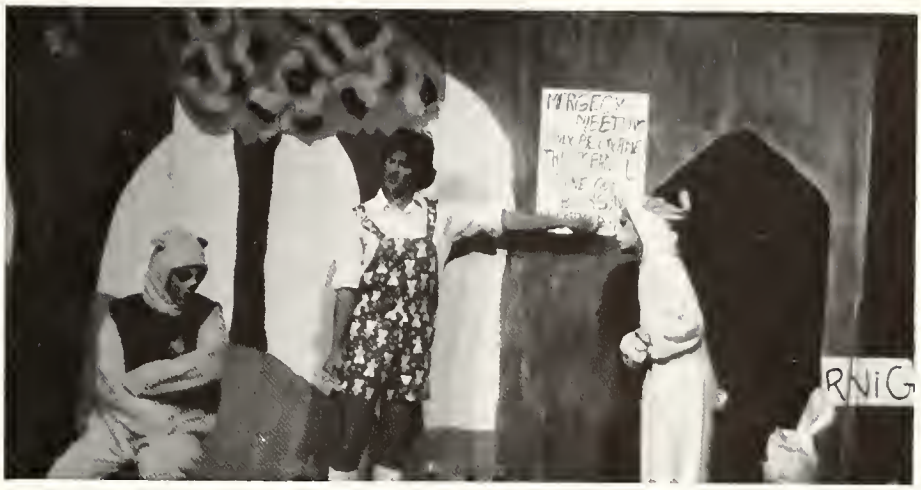
"My what big ears you have Pooh Bear," exclaims Tom Williams.

"Stop!" "What's the magic words," yells Tigger to Piglet and Pooh Bear.

"And then it went like this," explains Cindi Hewitt.

"My what a large class I have today," says Bill Kuhlman.

"Oooh I'm so tired," yawns Pooh Bear.



"And this is an R," teaches Christopher Robin to his companions Pooh Bear and Rabbit.

"Ooo that sounds so good," says Ann Rinebolt.

"Tell me whenever you would like me to stop singing," exclaims Tom Williams to Ralph Berry.

"I think I'm getting old," says Dave Farison (Eeyore).

MY FAIR LADY

In this play; "My Fair Lady", Professor Higgens has a bet with Colonel Pickering that he can take a squashed cabbage leaf from the gutter's of Covent Garden meaning Eliza and make her as assoct fit for a king; which he does. But in doing so falls in love with her but would not admit it. In the mean while Alfred P. Doolittle a common durtman is pushed into middle-class morality on the recommendation of Professor Higgins, who says Alfred has the most original morals in England. After Alfred's lecture, the American millionaire died leaving Alfred four million dollars. The 130 students who performed and participated in the cast, chorus, and dancers all did a slendid job along with the music with was played by the orchestra and directed by Mr. Shell. The production crew and Mr. Pahl's carpentry contributed greatly to the beautiful scenery.

The play Harvey, written by Mary Chase was directed by Mrs. Griffin and student director Ann Rinebolt, concerns a pooka. A pooka is a six foot invisible rabbit named Harvey. Harvey is the friend of Elwood P. Dowd. Elwood opens doors for Harvey, buys him drinks, talks to him, and listens when Harvey talks. The action takes place in a city of the Far West. The library in the old Dowd family mansion and the reception room of Chumley's Rest are the settings used in this three act play. Myrtle Mae Simmons and Veta Louise Simmons who live with Elwood believe he needs to be put in Chumley's Rest. Elwood constantly embarrasses them by his actions with Harvey. After many hilarious scense of trying to get Elwood into Chumley's Rest, Myrtle Mae and Veta Louise decide they do not want to put Elwood away. They are still skeptical of Harvey's existance, but they realize everyone has something they believe in and enjoy.

"How's this sound doc, it's a letter to my mom," Bob Hillshafer reads on to Ralph Berry.

"You have no right saying those things about my poor Elwood," Judi Kostyo warns Ralph Berry.

"Wow, come on in. I wasn't expecting Miss America!", exclaims Bob Hillshafer to Vicki Ice.

Duane Wilson which was played by Bob Hillshafer and Elwood Dowd played by Dave Emerson have a little disagreement.

"I brought you some flowers Elwood," says nurse Lorene Walker.

"Don't bother me, I'm in deep thought," thinks Brian Daniels.

"Do you think you can tell me what my problem is," asks Dave Emerson to Dr. John Courtney.

The entertainment for the evening which was provided by the Bobby Nelson Quartet.

Trying their skill at the jitterbug are Becky Andrews and John Lewis from the class of 74.

ALPINE

Couples decide since there is no mistletoe they'll settle for a bell.

The 1974 winter formal for Findlay High School this year was provided by Junior Achievement. The theme was Alpine Holiday. Student Council paid $200 to help cover costs of the dance and Junior Achievement took care of the entertainment. The Bobby Nelson Quartet provided music for the evening. Sophomore girls worked as servers and dressed in different styles of costumes. Junior Achievement members served on committees also to help make the dance a more interesting event this year.

Sophomore class servers Cindy Jaqua and Lori Ott help out on eating the cookies and drinking the punch at the formal.

Helping out on the entertainment at the organ is Len Huston.

HOLIDAY

The decorations for the formal consisted of a snow scene. They used various decorations like snowflakes, ski-lifts, and various other winter decorations to give the formal a more wintery atmosphere. Students from the class of 74 also attended the winter formal. Looks like they just can't stand to depart from the best school in the west. Thanks to all of the people who worked on making the Winter Formal a more pleasureable and memorable event.

Awarding prizes of all sorts were Bob Schuck, Mike Blake, Lisa Dannemiller, and Aileen Hooks.

"I'd appreciate it if you would quit making eyes at my escort," exclaims Brenda Lee to Linda Angers.

Bob Hafner explains to Mr. Gonso the size of fish he caught in the winter formal wishing well.

CLIMBING

I've caught a breeze and
I'm flying high
And gliding far.
The view is far more
Than anything
I could have imagined.
Each turn
Of my head
Brings into focus
Something new and exciting.
Opportunities boundless.
Nothing seems impossible
Being up here
Above the clouds
There's forever a hope for the future
And a sunrise on the horizon.

— Lori Hemmer

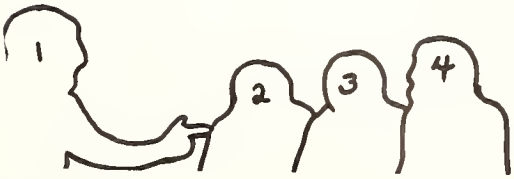
HEAR, SEE, AND SPEAK NO EVIL

Hear no evil, see no evil, speak no evil. Follow these words of the three wise monkeys and you have a good chance of not meeting Findlay High School's three 'wise monkeys'. You may have seen the celebrity, Mr. Charles, pictured in the Republican-Courier on December 30, 1974. He was interviewed for the "Profile" column which appears each Monday. It told about his past and how he feels about the overcrowded high school for whom he is the principal. Most likely in the past school year of 1974-1975 you heard the name Mr. John Stozich. If not, you're sure not a basketball fan. Even though Mr. Williams and Mr. Garnder didn't have their names and pictures in the Republican-Courier, your sure not to miss them! They make the rounds, by popping into classrooms, assisting and giving groups permission to carry out projects and many other great services. Without the help of these 'wise monkeys' and the pointer' the school would not be climbing anywhere.

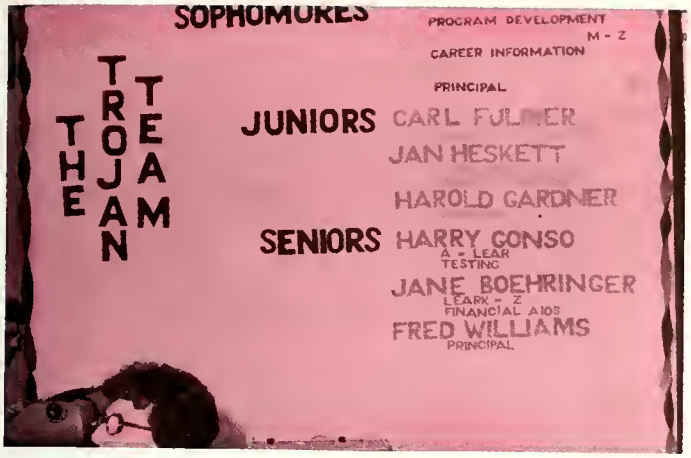
Wonder why Mr. Stozich is on Cloud Nine?!

(1) Glen Charles: Berea College; Eastern Kentucky University, B.S., M.A.; Miami University; Principal. (2) Fred Williams: Bowling Green State University, B.S., M.A.; Assistant Principal, Seniors. (3) John Stozich: College of Stubenville, B.A.; Bowling Green State University, M.A.; Assistant Principal, Sophomores. (4) Harold Gardner: Findlay College, A.B.; Bowling Green State University, M.A.; Assistant Principal, Juniors.

"So it's set, a round of golf tomorrow at 2:00," plans Mr. Williams.



"It's the same old story," thinks Mr. Charles.



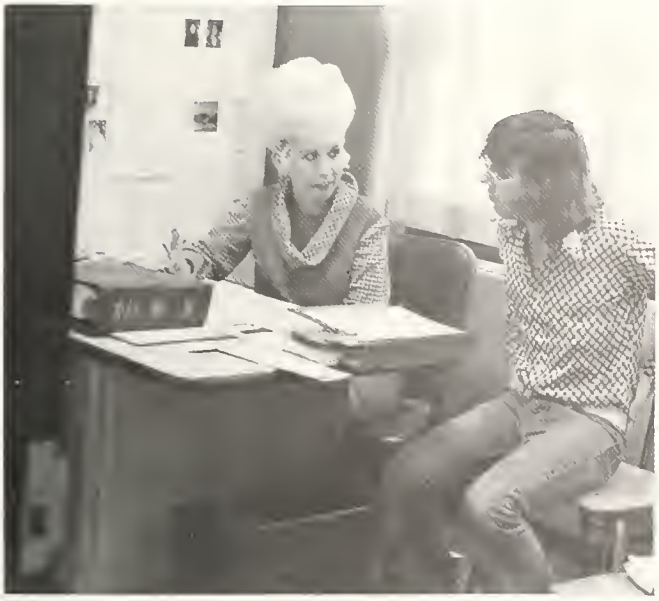
Upon entering the guidance office, this neatly done poster catches one's eye.

TROJAN TEAM

One of Findlay High School's Trojan Teams does not participate in the usual sports game. The game they play is 'helping the student'. The team consists of Mrs. Boehringer, Mr. Fulmer, Mr. Gonso, Miss Heskett, Mr. Smith, and Mrs. Thomas. Their opponents are sophomores, juniors, and seniors at F.H.S. The object of the game is to see what guidance counselor can get his students through high school and headed into their future successfully. Mr. Gonso and Mrs. Boehringer, having seniors this year, will pass the finish line on June 6. The junior counselors, Miss Heskett and Mr. Fulmer are still participating hard with the giving of PSAT-NMSQT, SAT, and ACT tests. The sophomore counselors, Mr. Smith and Mrs. Thomas are really going at it, trying to guide their students into the right area. Some may choose a vocational area and others may see college in their future.

"You got caught doing what?," questions Miss Heskett.

"I can't believe it, seven study halls in one day," checks Mr. Smith.



"Are you sure you want to take sewing?," Mrs. Boehringer questions John Courtney.

"Wish they had offered typing when I went to school," remarks Mr. Gonso.

JACK OF ALL TRADES

Findlay High School has six outstanding women which help tremendously to keep the school running smoothly day in and day out. No, it is not the homecoming court, or the cheerleaders, or any of the female faculty, and it is not any of the girls on the Trojan Yearbook staff. They are the secretaries in the main office and in the guidance office. Three other terrific ladies are the operators and the nurse. The secretaries have their usual duties with typing, attendance, and assisting in any possible way. They also have been known to help sell and distribute yearbooks and sell tickets for games. The operator assists out going and in coming callers to reach their party. The nurse helps the sick and injured throughout the day. Also she calls students in for a check-up sometime while they are at F.H.S.

Mr. Hayes is always giving the secretaries a hard time!

Mrs. Lewis lends a helping hand AND arm.

Mrs. Lee (Standing) operates the switch board for Mrs. Fenimore during her lunch break.

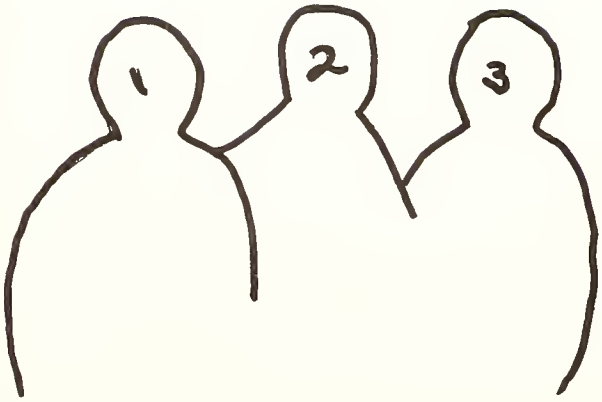
"Phone calls get more obscene each day," thinks Mrs. Newton.

INDIVIDUAL

In todays world of inflating prices, one's skill can come in very handy. Combining imagination, talent, and skillfullness many students are able to produce magnificent masterpieces. These masterpieces may be anything from baking a lasagna dinner to a painting which wins a Hallmark award in competition. Two of F.H.S. students did just that. Karen Hoy and Vimal Kumar were selected for Hallmark awards in Northwestern Ohio Scholastic Art Awards competition. Mr. Patterson was one of the members of the regional advisory committee. Besides the self satisfaction sewing skills and cooking skills can save a lot of money. An individual decorating his home also adds a more personal touch to it.

"Who did you say that was a sculpture of?", Mrs. Butler questions Angie Beery.

1. B. Patterson 2. D. Schmidt 3. J. Butler.



Mr. Schmidt assists student teacher Ruth Zampino.

CREATIVITY

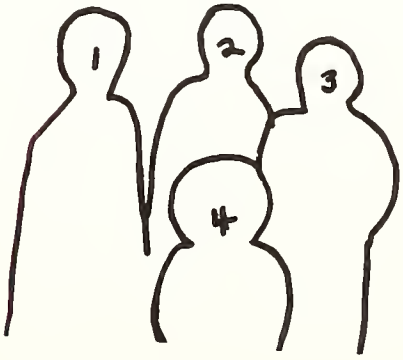
Miss Berger's mother must have been scared by a curling iron!

"Bet other teacher's wished they could use an ironing board as their desk," grins Mrs. Harris.

"I hope they know what their doing, because I don't", thinks Mrs. Stoner.

1. A. Cornwell 2. J. Harris 3. K. Stoner 4. M. Berger.

"Ooooh, that is simply gorgeous!", cooly says Mrs. Cornwell.



BUSINESS HAS DIVERSITY

One of Findlay High School's largest departments is the non-vocational business education courses. Being a large department with 16 teachers, there is an abundance of courses to choose from. Courses are available to any student going into any type of work. If a student does not plan to attend college, he may prepare himself in high school to go out in the business world. Business courses are also designed to give a student background to use in attending a business school after leaving high school. Business skills are used by many students to earn their way through college and realize they have these skills to fall back on. Special courses are also available to help a student seek employment before he leaves high school. In these courses such as Cooperative Office Education and Distributive Education, the student attends school for part of the day and works in a business related job the rest of the school day.

"Some of these timed writings just crack me up," giggles Mrs. Myers.

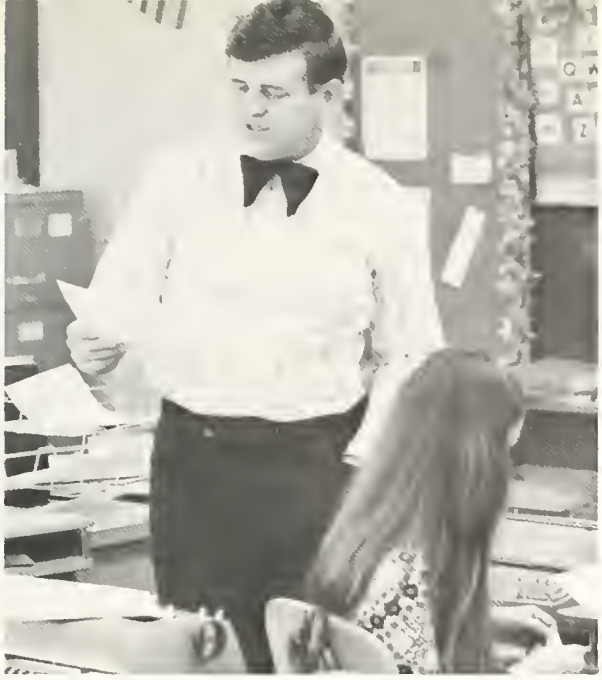
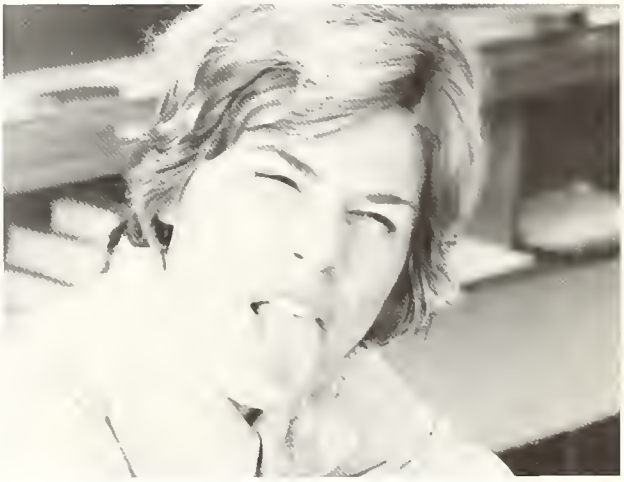
"Ribbet," croaks Mr. Smith.



"To be or not to be . . . What are you typing?!", questions Mr. Wohlgamuth.

"Don't tell me — you need a yearbook too!", knowingly says Mr. Hayes.

"I can't believe I saw what just ran by that window," stutters Mr. Philipp.



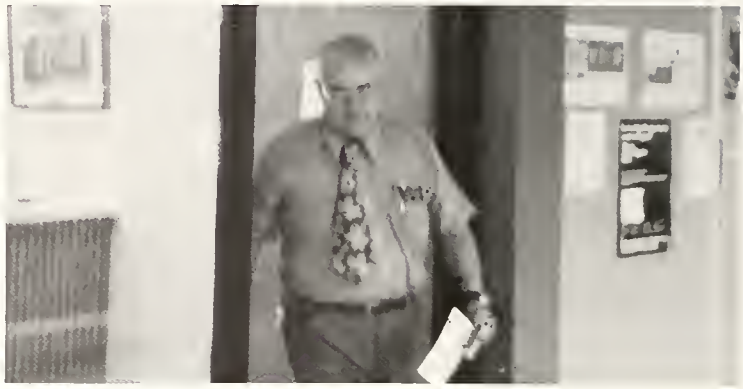
Miss Behne just heard where they are eating lunch today.

"I before E except after C," Mrs Cline reminds Bonnie Weber.

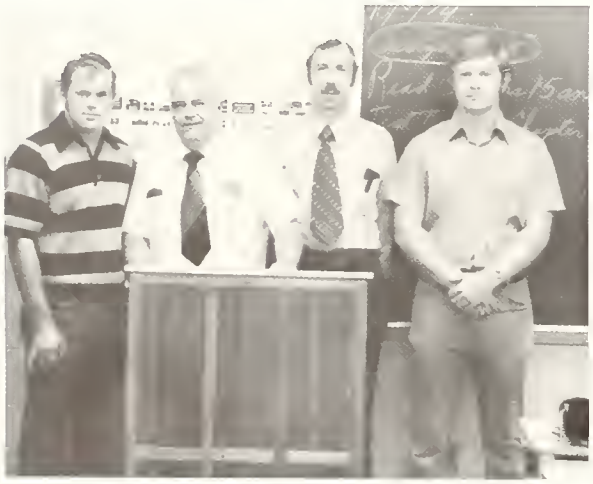
"And then Little Red Riding Hood . . .," begins Mrs. Woods.

PEDESTRIANS BEWARE

3201 Main Street is a very popular and important address to a student once he reaches sixteen years of age. Here at the Ohio State Highway Patrol Barricks one goes to obtain his Ohio Temporary Instruction Permit. This permit followed by a drivers education course approved by the State Department of Education or driver training course approved by the Director of Highway Safety is mandatory to any person under eighteen years of age. Findlay High School has four teachers instructing a drivers education course that will permit you to receive your drivers license in no time at all. Hours of classroom work, simulator, and actual driving of a car furnished by the local car dealers are used and taught. Driving rules, road signs, and driving procedures are all gone over very thoroughly to train students to become safe and efficient drivers.

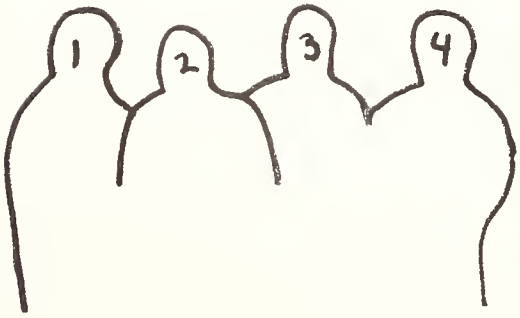


"I sure get tired of explaining how the Driver's Education car got wrecked," grumbles Mr. Larkins.



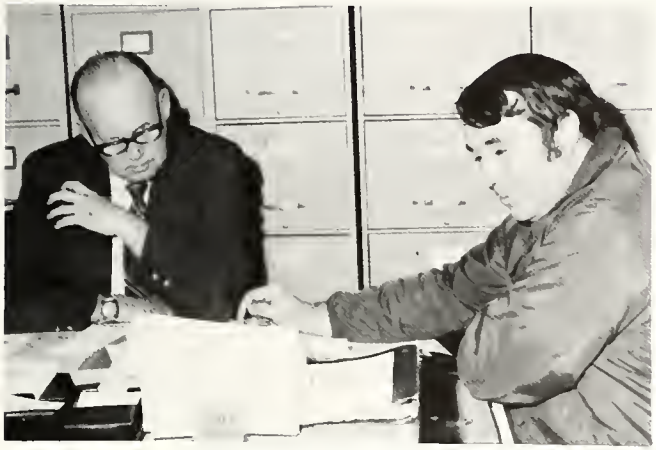
1. M. VonStein 2. J. Larkins 3. J. Didich 4. R. Wilczynski.

"Gee, I wish I could do that," Mr. Didich dreams on.



"I'm really not doing anything wrong, it just looks like it," snickers Mr. VonStein.

STAY HEALTHY

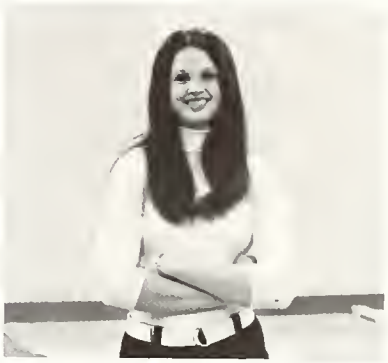


Mr. Merrill, athletic director, doesn't like to be disturbed while speaking with Mr. Jones.

"I don't want anyone to be embarrassed in this class," chuckles Mr. Hoover.

"Are you doubting my word on the human body?", questions Mrs. Watson.

Today Health and Physical Fitness is an important part of everyone's life. Findlay High School has available both a fine Health and Physical Education program. Required courses during sophomore year in high school are a semester of both Health and Physical Education. In Health classes topics such as drug abuse, alcoholism, veneral disease, mental illness and sex education are discussed. These problems being a large hassle in the life of a teen-ager today help the student to face his or her difficulties and steer the student down the right path in life. Activities taught in the Physical Education Department have also kept up to date with golf, bowling, archery, badmitten, basketball, softball, gymnastics, and weightlifting. The instructors of Health and Physical Education classes also devote much of their time coaching extra curricular activities at F.H.S. Thanks to their super coaching in numerous sports, F.H.S. has turned out to be number one!



"Sure you can take my picture," smiles Mrs. Wittenmeyer.

MORE THAN JUST AN ENGLISH CLASS

Realizing that traditional English courses no longer fulfill the requirements of students, Findlay High School has expanded its program to offer a wide range of courses which fit all areas of study. College-bound students are offered a large selection of courses studying the various ages of literature and perfecting the art of composition, such as Early American Literature and Advanced Composition. For students who are exceptionally proficient in the area of English and have the proper attitude and ability, Honors English courses are offered upon recommendation. Other courses geared to individual interests are Industrial or Homemaker's English. For students requiring backgrounds in the basic English skills, a course in basic English is offered. All the courses are geared to provide for individual growth and development, to help a student in better understanding of the beliefs of others as well as applying those beliefs to himself.

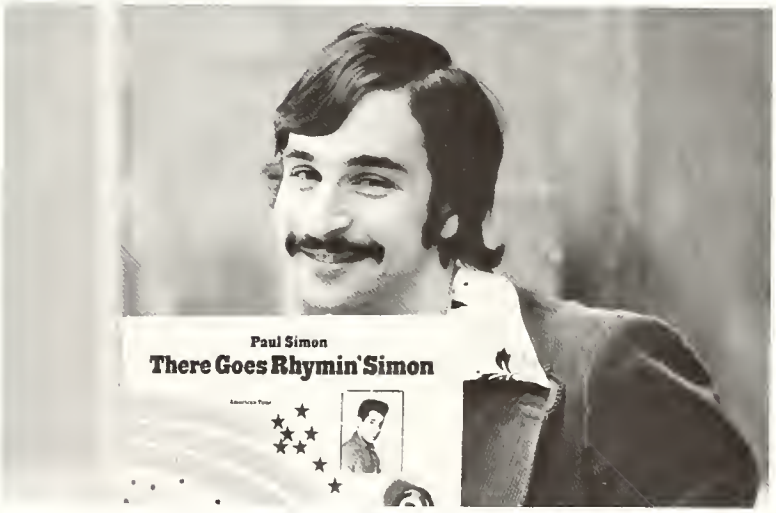
"Just because your bigger than I am . . .," warns Mrs. Beck.

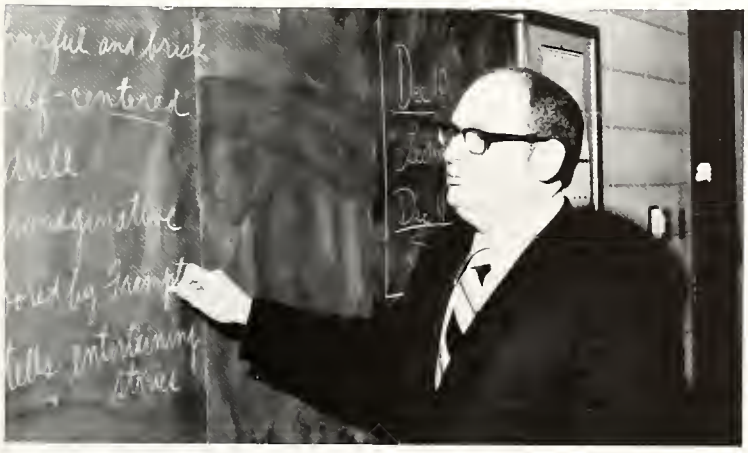
"Just can't hear like I use to," comments Mr. Clark.

"No, I'm not interested in buying a vacuum cleaner!", remarks Miss Buttermore.

"Why is it always me she catches writing notes?", wonders Julie Compson.



"Notice the resemblance? Well we sing alike too!", jokes Mr. Warley.



"I agree with this line 'bored by Frampt' also," comments Mr. Stewart.

I bet Mrs. Brobst uses Close-Up!

EXCHANGE OF THOUGHTS

The Communications Department at F.H.S. explores all areas of the field, from drama to debating to journalism. Speech I & II, taught by Mrs. Gebhardt, Mrs. Griffin, and Mrs. Busdeker concentrate on the art of learning to speak in a formal or informal manner. The curriculum used includes speeches and various tape assignments. Speech III & IV, also taught by Mrs. Gebhardt, allow a student to choose his or her own projects within a certain area of study. Mrs. Gebhardt teaches Drama I & II. Drama I concentrates on acting itself while Drama II centers around the study of technical theatre. Mrs. Beck teaches Journalism, which concentrates on writing specifically for newspaper, magazines and other publications. Debate I & II are taught by Mr. Bell. Both of these full-year courses set out to achieve an understanding of argumentation and logic pertaining to a national topic. Several classes added to the curriculum this year included Oral Communications II and Mass Media. Oral Communications II deals with learning to communicate as individuals, while Mass Media places an emphasis on radio and television communications. Both classes have met with success and will be continued, keeping the curriculum of the Communications Department varied, individualized, and extremely interesting.

"Um, that is a little too personal!" admits Mrs. Busdeker.

The library and resource center have undergone alot of changes during the past school year. The first change took place early in the school year with the leaving of Mrs. Sehnert who moved out of town. Miss Fredericka whom has been in charge of the resource center picked up her belongings and moved next door into the library. The open position in the recourse center was taken over by Mrs. Judy Purdy. The next major change that took place concerning the library and recourse center was the combining of the two. Although the physical atmosphere has not changed, Miss Fredericka and Mrs. Purdy work together as one unit. Their refered to as both librarians now instead one as a librarian and the other in charge of the recourse center. This combination has been named the Media Center. One of the new features the two librarians have formed is the display of many books on a specific topic. This display is set up for two weeks, then books on another area are put out.

"She really gets to me sometimes," Miss Fredericka mumbles about Mrs. Purdy.

"Hey, this is alot of fun," thinks Mrs. Purdy who is now in charge of the resource center.

"Since when did we have 'Playboy' magazines?" questions Steve Crawford to Mrs. Moore.

Miss Fredericka can be very NOISY at times.

Students help out in both the resource center and library.

TEACHERS EXPAND KNOWLEDGE

Language teachers are always interested in learning more about the countries and languages they teach to their students. This year most of the teachers have made plans to further their knowledge during the summer. Mrs. Hite who teaches French and Latin is interested in learning more about the culture of Sicily and its surrounding area. She hopes to visit an exchange student who once stayed at her home and meet his family. Mrs. Bumann, a German teacher is planning to attend a seminar with about fifty others to Vienna, Austra. They will be able to learn more on the cultures in Austria. Spanish teachers Mr. Frost and Mrs. Reardon, are planning and hope to visit Mexico. Miss Coatney, however, is going to stay right here in the United States and very close to home. She will be working with a migrant program in Bowling Green. If all goes well Findlay High School should have a very well informed, educated, and experienced language department next year.

"No applause, just money," states Mr. Frost.

CALCULATORS

'The Three Stooges': Mr. Kaylor, Mr. Hall, and Mr.

Once it was arithmatic, then it advanced to mathematics. The levels of mathematics have been climbing rapidly for many years. Findlay High School offers a large variety of these courses. Offered are: Business Arithmatic; Algebra I, II, and advanced; Geometry, Trigonometry; Probability and Statistics; Analytical Geometry; and Calculas. Even though the high school offers a great variety of mathematics, one hardly needs to take any of these. For this is the year many students will look back on and remember the 'Calculator Craze'. At first it was talk about who had a calculator, towards the end of the year, the talk centered around who did not have or use one. Many students would have never made it through the long hours of Bookkeeping let along Calculus, without their trusty little calculators!

"How did I get stuck with 9th period?" wonders Mrs. Gullett.

"Anyone with the wrong answer gets a half-nelson put on them," warns Mr. Burkle.

"Some days are just better than others," thinks Mr. Boyer.

"Hi there, Hay there, Ho there," Mr. Powell greets his class.

I WANT SOMETHING SUITED . . .

The Technical-Vocational Department consisting of nine teachers, specializes in six areas of study. These areas are carpentry, blue print reading, welding, automotives, machine trades, and electronics. All the classes provide training to prepare the student to enter the world of work. The carpentry class did a large majority of the scenery used in the operetta and plays which F.H.S. drama department presented. They also built a house, outdoor shed, picnic tables, and many other skillful projects. Blue print readings main projects throughout the school year consisted of sketching house plans. In class the students learned many symbols and terms that represent the draftsman's language. Besides the class projects taught in welding class they constructed candelstick holders, flower baskets, and numerous other items which were put on sale. The automotives class never ran out of cars to work on. Students, teachers, and parents sent their cars to these skillful guys to fix for only the cost of parts and not labor, which is very convenient with todays climbing prices. The electronics classes put their skills together in wiring the house which was made by the carpentry class.

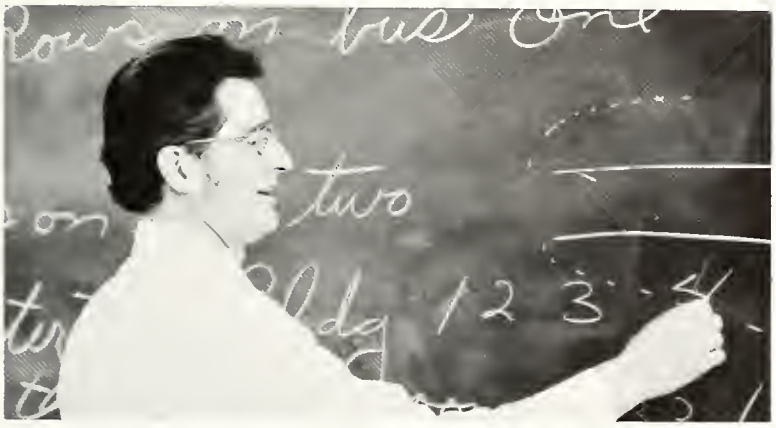
EVERYTHING HAS A SONG TO SING

Mr. Amend and Mr. Shell prove that music teachers are human too!

"They play much better than I ever expected," admits Mr. Shell



"One, two, three, four — very good!" counts Mr. Jefferies.

Unless your life centers around vocal music, symphony orchestra, marching band, concert band, music theory, or any other type of vocal instrumental music courses, you may never have seen or heard of Mr. Amend, Mr. Shell, Mr. Mitchell, Mr. Hanson, Mr. Hite, or Mr. Jefferies. Although not all these men devote their entire day at F.H.S., they have helped out greatly in making the music department the fabulous one that it is. The members of the music department also work with vocal and instrumental groups at other nearby schools strengthening each school and each student in the music field.

RHAPSODY/William Braithwaite

I am glad daylong for the gift of song,
For time and change and sorrow;
For the sunset wings and the world-end things
Which hang on the edge of tomorrow.
I am glad for my heart whose gates apart
Are the entrance-place of wonders,
Where dreams come in from the rush and din
Like sheep from the rains and thunders.

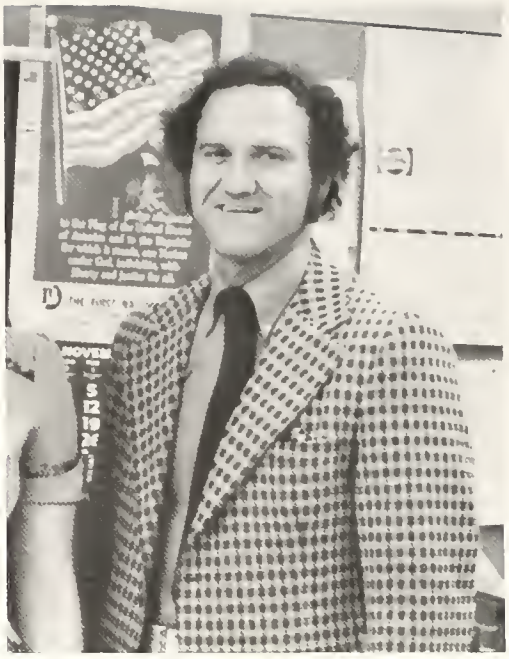
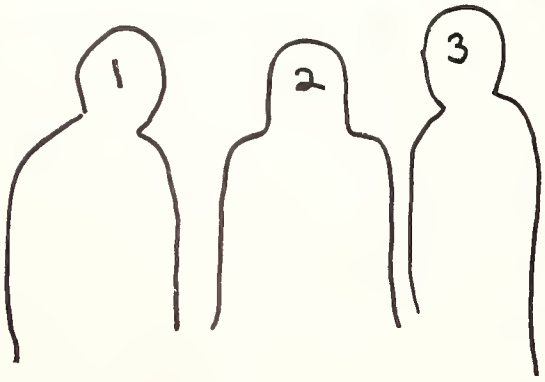
SPECIAL COURSES AID TREMENDOUSLY

Mrs. Holman helps students out individually with their school work and other problems that they may have.

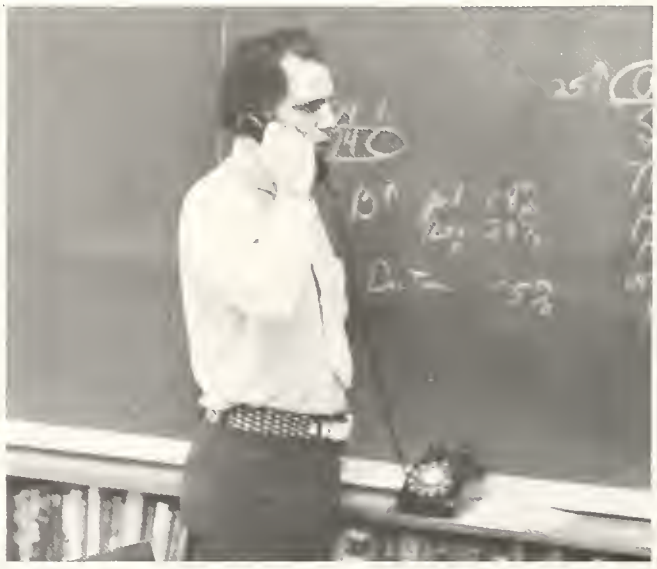


"This is the third Monday this week," groans Mr. Gilson.

1. R. Allen 2. J. Holman 3. P. Gilson Not pictured: M. Sparks.



Mr. Allen, Mr. Gilson, Mrs. Holman and Mrs. Sparks teach courses designed for those pupils who find regular class work difficult in Occupational Education Classes. They learn many things which will help them through life and working at a job. These students are required to participate at jobs in a workshop provided at The Project at Firman School. Mr. Frazier, Mr. Heater, Mr. Kromer, and Mr. Nicholls also teach students who can not meet the regular academic classes in Occupational Work Experience Classes. Students construct products according to manufacturing and industrial standards in a laboratory experience and then sell them. Material is taught on job explanation and job information along with academic courses. On Fridays however another 'subject' is added. The students do something together such as go bowling at Sportsman Lanes.



"The time is two-thirty, temperature forty-seven degrees," hears Mr. Allen.

"You two want to join the football team?" questions Mr. Heater.

"What do you mean you don't understand?" inquires Mr. Nichols.

"Aw . . . isn't that cute!," remarks Mr. Kromer.

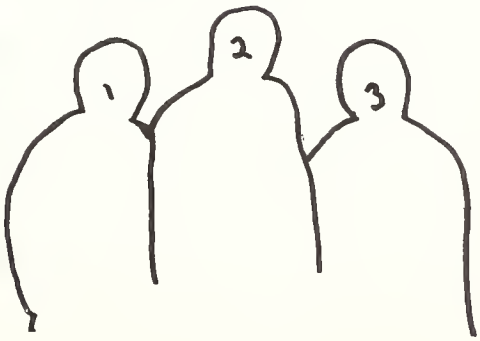
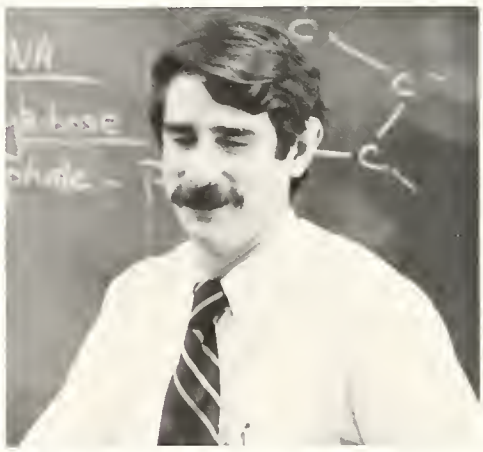
"I just love tests," mutters Tom Rayle.



THE MAD SCIENTIST

The Science department consists of three major divisions. There are three years of Biology. Biology I consists of insect collecting, tree and flower analysis, disection and many other biological studies. Biology I is mostly a sophomore class with four teachers; Mr. Cashel, Mr. Barnhill, Mr. Reynolds, and Mr. Lenard. Biology II is involved in a more depth study of biology of which drawings play a major role. Biology III is an outside class based mostly around oronothology, or bird watching. Doc Phillips is the teacher for both Biology II and Biology III. The second division is Chemistry, the science that deals with the composition, structure, and properties of substances and of the transformations that they undergo. Chemistry I is involved with many labs dealing with the composition of materials. Chemistry teachers are Mr. Chapin and Mr. Gilligan. Mr. Gilligan also reaches Chemistry II which is an independent study. The study is a majorly Qualitive Analysis. The last division is Physics, the fundamental science of the natural world. Physics, involves alot of labs and mathematical work. Mr. Steele is the teacher of Physics for his first year after teaching Science at Glenwood Junior High. All of these sciences have helped students at Findlay High climb to greater heights this year.

"Darn these bifocals," Mr. Chapin comments under his breath.



"Your just jealous that you can't grow one!" snickers Mr. Leonard.

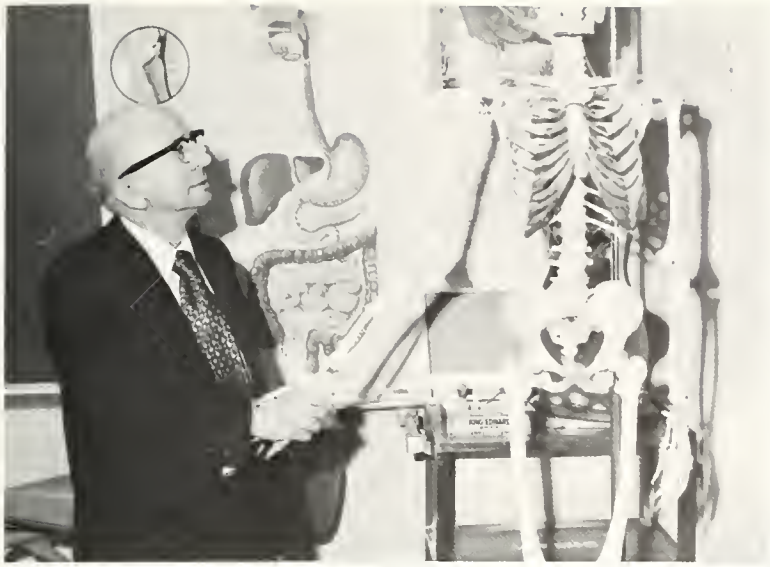
"You don't say, You Don't Say, YOU DON'T SAY!" exclaims Mr. Cashel.



"This food shortage sure has been effecting my students," comments Mr. Phillips.

"What is this, 2 grams of peanut butter and jelly sandwiches?", questions Mr. Gilligan.

"Red Rover, Red Rover, send Phosphate 3 over," chants Brian Smith, Steve Miller, and Debbie Dudley.

"Mission Impossible," thinks Marvin Haas.

"Biology makes me feel good all under," smirks Mr. Reynolds.

"Would anyone else like my autograph?", inquires Mr. Barnhill.

CURRENT EVENTS AFFECT

Social studies are a necessary part of an average students' schedule, and Findlay High School has a variety of social studies courses so that a student can fulfill his requirement with one or more of the challenging corses offered. In addition to American History on three levels, basic, college prepartory, and honors courses. World Geography, Sociology, World Affiars and Psychology are also offered. For next year a course centering around the American Constitution and various Supreme Court cases will be offered. All the courses use different methods of making them interesting: in Psychology, rats and mice are used in the study of behavior, and in several of the other courses map work is used extensively. Research papers are required as part of the curriculum of several of the courses. All of them fulfill their goals of informing the student while still keeping the class an interesting part of the overall curriculum. Another major topic which made social studies courses more interesting was the discussion of current events. Many happenings took place during the past year which effected the student and his life. Facing the worlds problems and seeing how he and others can help means alot to many students.

Eagled Eyed Mr. DeFrench and Mrs. Gibson watch the cafeteria during 6th period lunch.

"And this is a dog ," Mrs. Brewer explains with her hands.

"And Ben Franklin, the father of our country ", begins Mr. Clapper.

EVERYONE

"I'm going to kill that fly if it takes all period," remarks Mr. Montgomery.

"Wonder if President Ford started out this way?", thinks Mr. Slough.

"Sure you can use your notes on the test," reassures Mrs. Gibson.

"Friends, Romans, Countrymen . . ," quotes Mr. Curth.

"It's working!" thinks Mr. Fellows.

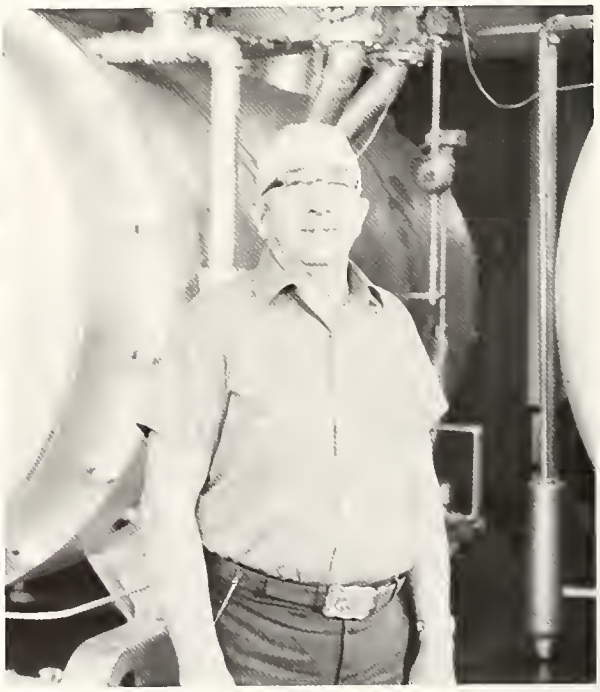
Mary Miles proves a womans work is never done.

Although not members of the faculty, the cafeteria and maintenance staff are just as essential to the smooth running and functioning of F.H.S. as the teachers and administration. Their services while not always obvious, are the factors that hold F.H.S. together and make it an outstanding school in all aspects. Miles of floors and dirty windows pose no problem to them as they daily perform the tasks of cleaning and repairing. The custodial staff lends ladders and various tools to decorating committees. Getting the cafeteria prepared for extra curricular activities is another service they perform. The cafeteria staff work their hardest from around 10:00 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. five days a week. Preparing the scheduled lunches along with their extra "goodies", such as cookies, pies, and cakes will always be much appreciated by the stomachs of students and faculty at F.H.S.

"Putt ... Putt . Putt out of gas again", grins Harrison Gould.



Famous Eaton, a fireman at F. H. S. for 12 years is retiring this year.

SOPHOMORE CLASS OF '77

One year down and two to go. The school babys, in other words the sophomores. Well our first big year at the high school has been lots of fun for us! Just think back on all the fun you had. Getting picked for the team of your favorite sport, making varsity F, ordering class rings, building a float for the homecoming parade, meeting new friends, making band or orchestra, cheerleading try-outs, getting asked to the prom, or serving at the prom, feeling a real part of the school spirit at games, on 50's day or clash day. Thinking back it wasn't as bad as we thought it would be, infact it was pretty great!

Class Officers. President: Rich Chamblain, Vice President: Tricia Wygal, Secretary Treasurer: Tammy Tyler.

"Leave me alone it's Monday," says Mike Harrington.

"No Fair peeking," giggles Doris Hulderman and Janet Qualkenbush.

"Work, work! work!" complains Tammy Fry.

"Your kidding aren't you?" laughes Jim Fenbert.

"What's this world coming to you can't even walk through the court yard anymore," decides Brenda Duffield.

zzzz . . . zzz . . . zz . . z. Cathy! Cathy!

"Can't a person even sleep in peace around here?" complains Cathy Hubbard.

"You did that?!" said Kathy Hildreth to Danna Hudkins.

"Why you . . .," warns Betsy Windle.

"You photographers sure make the rounds, don't you?" says Stu Mills.

THESPIANS

This year as in years past, Thespians put on two major productions, also a night of one act plays and in conjunction with the music department a musical. The first show of the season was a childrens production. Keeping a tradition started two years ago the first show is aimed at the elementary age children. House at Pooh Corner, perhaps the best of the Winnie the Pooh stories was well received by children and adults alike. Mrs. Griffin the newest member of the speech department at F.H.S. directed the second show. Harvey, the story of a 6ft. invisible rabbit was a smashing success. The first comedy in quite a few years was a welcome change for theatre goers.

The triumph of the season, as usual was the musical. This year My Fair Lady won the overwhelming praise of three full houses. It was described as the best ever on the F.H.S. stage. New techniques in set and sound produced a very professional overall effect. Even as the final curtain closes the leads were invited to appear and perform at clubs throughout the city. The music and acting was superior and shall not be soon forgotten.

For the graduating seniors it is a sad affair to play their final performance. Even if they never had a lead the F.H.S. theatre department shall be missed. The oncoming actors will have quite a job ahead of them to equal this year. They will try, fail and succeed. Each year new stars will bow out, but through all, the show must go on.

Standing (L-R): Tom Leddy, Phil Chubb, Tom Flavell. Kneeling: Joel Gallagher, Scott Bernhardt. Absent: John Vielhaber. Advisor: Mr. James King.

LITTLE KINGS

One of the more social clubs emerged this year in the form of the Schoenling Little Kings Club. Although goals and accomplishments were a bit abscure, club members had a memorable year. The monthly meetings will be missed by all who participated. Coregional Presidents Phil Chubb and Tom Leddy had this to say at the year's end — "Although Club members will be going different directions through the years, memories will keep the Kingers' together."

Standing: Bill Gram, Mike Gardner, Bill Russe, Bob Baratta, Phil Price.

OOPS

A Literary magazine set up to give students a voice.
Content consisted of poems, stories and cartoons.
The Editors financed, wrote, and printed the magazine.
OOPS raised money and bought new records for the Juke Box.

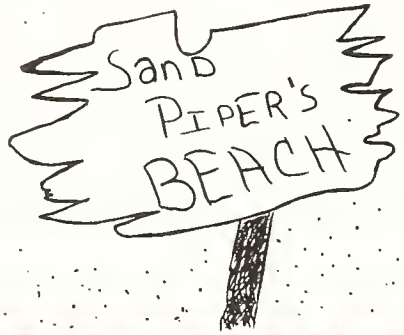
Editor — Bill Russe
Business Manager — Bob Baraha
Advertising — Bill Graham, Phil Price
Advisor — Mr. Rock Snow

First Row: Patti Davies, Deb Benavides, Mr. Snow, Chris Greeno, Tawny McVay. Second Row: Amy Walsh, Ann Lauth, Robin Johnson, Martha Wind, Anita Walterminre.

Tawny McVay is asking where her feet are.



Sandpipers wait patiently for poised swimmer to leave.

This year was Rock Snow's second attempt at organizing a group of High School girls to help promote the Findlay Swim Team. He had some quite noticable success, mostly due to the Sophomore interest. The Sandpipers accomplished quite a few of their goals, like decorating lockers, acting as timers and score keepers, bake sales for money, and even a Swim Night after the season was over to help cover expenses. The most important achievement was the encouragement for the swimmers. Swimming not being as popular at F.H.S. as football and basketball doesn't get the moral support that all sports need. The Sandpipers helped fulfill a large part of this.

MEMORIALS

DEATH

Why be afraid of death, as though your life were breath?
Death but annoints your eyes with clay. O glad surprise!

Why should you be forlorn? Death only husks the corn
Why should you fear to meet the thresher of the wheat?

Is sleep a thing to dread? Yet sleeping you are dead
Till you awake and rise, here, or beyond the skies.

Why should it be a wrench to leave your wooden bench?
Why not, with happy shout, run home when school is out?

The dear ones left behind? Oh, foolish one and blind!
A day and you will meet a night and you will greet.

This is the death of death, to breathe away a breath
And know the end of strife, and taste the deathless life

And joy without a fear, and smile without a tear;
And work, nor care to rest, and find the last the best.

SOARING

Silently the seagull soars
On wings of air.
Searching evermore
For a place to be free.

A place where he can
Survey the land he flies over
Leaving if he wishes
Staying if he wants.

He does what he pleases
And cares not
How others feel about his life
Or what they say.

He is.
He is himself.
No one else
Or ever could be.

Although the Girl's Gymnastics Team had a limited dual meet season alot was accomplished. The Team had 5 returning upperclassmen, but was largely made-up of sophomores. The girls were enthusiastic, dedicated, and hard workers, and each showed a mark improvement in her skill level from pre-season. The competition in the northwest district was tough and the two meets lost and the second place in the triangular meet were all close contests. Findlay made a good showing in the District Gymnastics Meet, but since Intermediate Level was dropped from State Competition, no one qualified this year.

Hockey, a ruff and exciting sport was a new addition to the 1974-1975 athletic program. Under the coaching staff of Jack Harring and Bill Cassidy, the FHS icers exhibited the perfect ability on the ice. The Trojans hosted 14 of the 19 regular scheduled games at the HRC and 3 of the 5 tournaments finishing the season with a 14-1-4 record. Throughout the season the FHS icers looked forward for the showdown with their arch rivals Bowling Green. Unfortunately, both games ended in ties.

In Individual scoring in the regular season, Warren Williams lead the team with 35 goals with Brian Wisners 41 assists. Phil Poettman and Jay Waddell lead the team for the most unassisted goals. In other scoring, Brian Wisner 28 first assists, Warren Williams and Brian Wisner: Most power-handed goals, and Warren Williams and Terry Coats: Most short-handed.

JUNIOR CLASS OF '76

The enthusiastic junior class have been very industrious in many fund promoting projects. They have sold candy, had a bake sale, and a slave day. The slave day was an enormous success. The junior class promoted $134.00 to their cause. The selling of class jackets was another way of raising money for the prom. After the money was raised the junior class was looking ahead to the prom. The prom is a gift from the junior class to the graduating senior class. The theme of the 1975 prom was "Midnight at the Oasis." The name of the group was "Magik Daze."

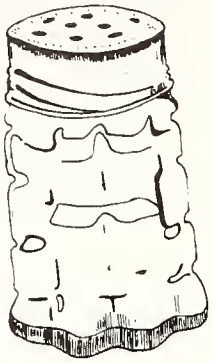
PEPPER CLUB
NOTHING TO SNEEZE AT



Although Pepper Club didn't have as many grains in the shaker this year, they still retained their spice. The club's aim at vitalizing sport's enthusiasm was accomplished through a variety of activities. These included: a sophomore welcome at a football game, cheering at all home basketball games, decorating the locker room (while the guys were out, of course) selling football programs, traveling to tournament games, work at practices every Tuesday evening, and struggling with replaced skirts worn in previous years.

RESOURCE CENTER ASSISTANTS — Resourceful

RESOURCE STUDENT ASSISTANTS — RESOURCEFUL

Led by Miss Fredericka, the student Library Assistants participate in a half credit course in which clerical procedures are taught as well as the fundamental of operating a library. This year they became affiliated with the Ohio Student Library Assistants. Just some of their responsibilities entail checking materials in and out, handling student library passes, and shelfing books. Without them, FHS's students would be lost amidst a jungle of letters and numbers.

LIBRARY ASSISTANTS PUT THEIR HEARTS ON THE SHELF

The Resource Student Assistant program is similar to that of the Library. These students aid Mrs. Purdy in her responsibilities in the Resource Center. Some of these are video-taping, dry mounting, cleaning and splicing films, supplying T.W. equipment and curriculum oriented books to teachers and students, and preparing original tapes for the school's use. In order to obtain their half credit they must rate satisfactorily on practical tests and in attitude and willingness.

DECENT

As I recall my life gone by
I'm truely glad it's been.
Now I'm on my own
And my life is mine to fullfill.

Like the birds
I can fly higher
To reach realms
Beyond.

Part of my life is over
I've learned and grown.
Memories will always be a part of me
Yet I see a sunrise on the horizon.

New opportunities
New experiences
New friends to make
And new thoughts to think.

The world is mine to survey
To conquer if I so wish.
I'll continue on my way
Ever grateful for yesterday.

— Lori Hemmer

SENIOR CLASS OF '75

Look to this day!
For it is life, the very life of life.
In it's brief course
Lie all the verities and realities
of your existence:
The bliss of growth,
The glory of action,
The splendor of achievement;
For yesterday is but a dream
And tomorrow is only a vision,
But today well lived makes every yesterday
a dream of happiness
And tomorrow a vision of hope.
Look well, therefore, to this day!

John Campbell, ranking at the top of the senior class of 1975, sets his goal in life as trying to satisfy his needs and the needs in which other people have. John is planning to further his education majoring in the economics or social science study at Duke University. Friends, from John's expectations, should have loyalty, understanding, a sense of humor, and an interesting person. During school he liked English the most. Lasagna is his favorite food. John's hobbies include tennis, golf, and reading.

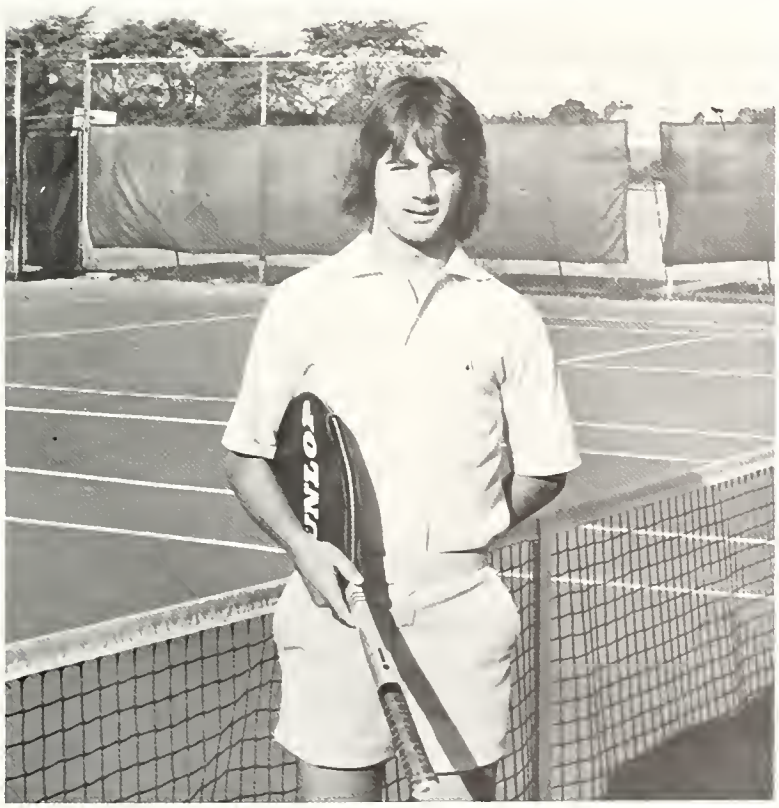
Aileen Hooks, ranked as number two of her senior class wants to have fun and and be happy throughout her life. Aileen is presently employed at Frostop. She wishes to attend Georgetown University. entering the field of International Relations. Her favorites: animal, koala bear; car, Mercedes Benz; team, Cincinnati Reds; food, cotten candy; and group, Chicago. Eileen's hobbies are traveling, reading, and just plain having fun.

Third in her class, Carol Mauer feels a fulfilling life where you can bring happiness to others is the most important. Carol's plans are to attend Miami University, majoring in mathematics. She expects loyalty and understanding from her friends. In her free time she is either in the water, sun, or on a tennis court. Favorites: food, strawberries; sport, gymnastics; and topic of discussion, life itself.

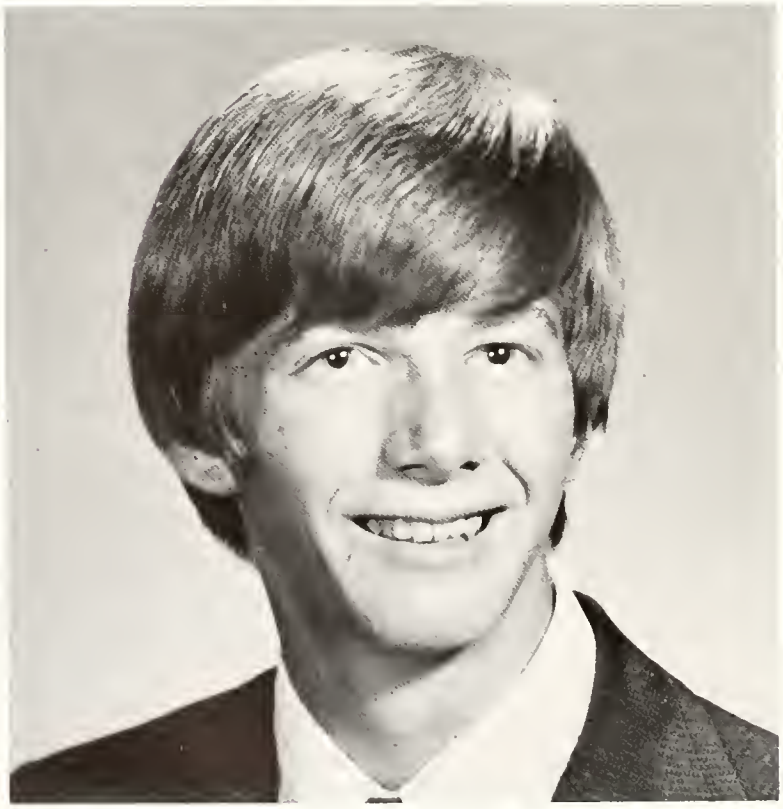
Tammy Wallen forth in her class, states: "I want to work with people, whatever I do. I have anticipations of working in an international bank and interpreting French." Presently Tammy is employed at the YMCA as synchronizing coach and lifeguard. Majoring in French, she plans to attend Miami University. She expects a friend to keep a secret, respect her feelings, and listen to her thoughts. Favorite groups are Chicago and the Beach Boys. A few thoughts: "I don't consider myself overly religious, although I have my own impersonal God." "I hate to talk about politics because it is impossible to do it honestly."

Earl Stalter, number five in his class, is presently employed at the Hancock County Engineer's Office. Earl would like to make engineering his life. He will be attending Rose Hulman Institute of Technology. He quotes, "A friend should be someone you can talk with and not be afraid of what they think." His favorite animals are dogs; favorite subject, math; favorite food, shrimp; and his favorite sports are baseball, and basketball. Earl's number one topic for discussion is politics. Earl's hobbies are piano and umpiring for baseball.



Steve Younger number six in his class, quotes, "My goals in life are to be a nice person!" Majoring in pre-law, Steve will be attending Miami University in the fall. His favorite group, America; subject, English; and food, steak. He likes to talk about religion and politics. Steve's hobbies are tennis and golf. The thing Steve dislikes the most is filling out forms. He enjoys ridiculing things which he does not appreciate. Steve is a French nut especially since he visited France two years ago.

Kerri Lyle, number seven in her class, says, "I have no set goals, I just live one day at a time." Kerri will be majoring in Physics and Mathematics at Bluffton College. She expects from a friend companionship but dislikes people that do not act like themselves. In her free time, Kerri is usually hiking. Her main hobbies are tennis, sewing, and hiking.



Rob Steed, number eight in his class, is spending his summer, before entering Brigham Young University, picking and planting pineapples in Maui, Hawaii. At B.Y.U., Rob has a full paid scholastic scholarship in which he will enter the Biology field. He enjoys anything outdoors, such as hiking, mountain climbing, skin diving, and body surfing. His favorite food is strawberry pie. Working with the little guys at the morning league baseball team at the Y.M.C.A., Rob was able to show his baseball skills. Rob's hobbies are playing the guitar, bird identification, and bicycling.

Ninth in his class, Dave Bibler's goals in life are, "To live my life to the fullest and do the best I can in anything I try." Employed on the Camp Berry Staff, Dave is very active in Boy Scouts and Exploring. Meteorology will be his major at Purdue University. Favorite cars, volkswagons; favorite animals, dogs; favorite subject, chemistry; and favorite food, tuna salad sandwich. Dave enjoys discussing the current events of the nation. His hobby is stamp collecting.

Tenth in her class, Terry Roether wants to live life for its fun. She is working at the Dutch Pantry. Attending Ohio State, Terry's major will be Natural Resources. She expects a friend to give companionship, advice, honesty. In her free time she likes to be at parties, Hawaii, Florida, or California on the beach. Her favorite animals are chipmunks; favorite group, the Beach Boys; favorite subject, Biology; and favorite food, chop suey. Her hobbies are throwing parties, and talking.

In the past year's after the prom was over everyone hurried home, changed and then loaded on to buses to take the rounds of events of the "post prom". However, this year the post prom activities were a little different and a little new. The entire post prom was held at the HRC where the setting of a Las Vegas gambling tables and casinos filled the atmosphere. Live entertainment and refreshments were was just a part of the evening along with the movie, American Graffti. And as the post prom ended the couples who went will always remember the fun time they had at the HRC all night.

The prom, an evening of excitement for all involved.

The 1975 prom had a slow and dreary start but a lively and great finish. The problem of little money rode on the juniors, Mrs. Woods, and Mr. Froelich's shoulders. After an assembly which opened other's eyes to this problem, many money making projects came under way. A candy sale was held first of all, then a slave day in which juniors were bought through an auction by sophomores and seniors. The highest bidder soon became the slaves master. gons, were just a few of the tasks performed by the slaves. Special '76 jackets for the juniors were designed next. The Hancock Recreation Center also did their part in contributing to the prom. A Battle of the Bands was held. Money went towards the prom and the three juniors high schools for their graduations. After supplies were bought, decorating the gymnasium and cafeteria came under way. By Friday a mood of Twilight at the Desert filled the air and left many memories of a beautiful night.

MAGIC DAZE, provides the music for the prom.

As the couples leave the prom they prepare for a long night at the post prom.

Mrs. Butler asks, "I'm sure this is how it's done!"

WHO CARES?

Graduation ... A time of landing, but only in preparation to take off again. It is a time to look back, see what has been done, and advance with the good. This year the Seniors voted upon six of their graduation speakers. They were to elect two local ministers and four senior students from the upper ten percent of the class. The two ministers elected were, the Reverend Franklin D. Cody, Pastor of St. Paul's United Methodist church, and Father Gilbert Lizette from St. Michael's Catholic Church. Reverend Cody delivered the message, "Who cares? ... He does and we do". Father Lizette delivered the invocation and the benediction. The central theme for the graduation and the four class speakers was "Who Cares?" Each speaker presented their observations and viewpoints. The Junior-Senior Choir sang both, "Glorious Everlasting" and "Walk into your World". The graduation was held outside and the weather was beautiful.

LANDING

I may not seem
Able to do much
But what better way of life
Is there than
Taking all the time
Perfecting myself?

I find new things
Challenging me
Every day and
Each challenge
I meet head on
Seems to Become just a little less
Hard to conquer.

After it has been Conquered
I look forward
To the next one
And feel disappointed
If it's but a little
Delayed.

DO IT RIGHT AFTER GRADUATION...

Your decision now will last the rest of your life. Our free training will start you on a career in one of hundreds of fields, and you'll begin gaining experience at one of our locations around the world. We offer 30 days paid vacation from the very first year, and we pay all medical/dental expenses. You'll also have free food, housing and clothing. If all this sounds unusually good, we're a very unusually good organization . . .

Look up.
Be looked up to.
